Protect Your Children

What is E-safety?

E-safety is a way to stay safe from people on the Internet who pretend to be someone they are not.

Cyber Bullying

People are cyber bullied everyday in one way or another, whether it be over the phone, text messages, chat rooms or simply creating a website to say bad things about another person.

Talk to your children and encourage them to tell you if this is happening.

Points to discuss with your children

Meeting Strangers

Your Children could be meeting strangers over the Internet without you knowing about it. With chat rooms such as Msn and Facebook, they could be swapping pictures or details, and sooner or later your child could be meeting up with strangers.

In The End

If your child isn't aware of the dangers of the internet, then they might chat to someone and decide to meet up. This could lead to some awful consequences.

- 1) Do not give any personal details out over the Internet or phone.
- 2) Tell an adult when you are going online.
- 3) Only go on websites that you trust and know.
- 4) Make sure you tell a responsible adult when you are signing up for something.
